ABOUT CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Cornell University is the federal land-grant institution of New York State, a private endowed university, a member of the Ivy League, and a partner of the State University of New York. It has been described as the first truly American university because of its founders' revolutionarily egalitarian and practical vision of higher education, and is dedicated to its land-grant mission of outreach and public service. Founded in 1865 by Ezra Cornell and Andrew Dickson White, Cornell was intended to teach and make contributions in all fields of knowledge. These ideals are captured in Cornell's motto, a popular 1865 Ezra Cornell quotation: "I would found an institution where any person can find instruction in any study."

ABOUT ITHACA, NY

Ithaca, NY, home to Cornell University and Ithaca College, is one of the best known and best loved "college towns" in the nation. Students make up a sizable portion of the population and even have a mini commercial district on the edge of campus. Located in the Finger Lakes region in the middle of the state of New York, Ithaca draws tourists to its waterfalls and gorges, its wineries, its restaurants, and hiking trails. A small city in a rural part of the state, Ithaca is known for its engaged citizens, cooperative ventures, and an emerging start-up sector. Put simply, students find plenty of ways to be active beyond the classroom and campus whether in the community or out in nature.

COURSE INFORMATION
Cornell Colleges	Undergraduate students may apply to any undergraduate college covered by the exchange agreement. Colleges house the Cornell majors. Students will be placed in a specific college based on the major they are nominated to at Cornell University. Each college will have their own course enrollment policies . It is important students are aware of these policies as they prepare for course enrollment.
Cornell Major	Students should have significant academic preparation in the discipline of their chosen major at Cornell. Students should be prepared to express their interest in the admitting college and major in their statement of purpose.
Restricted majors/degree programs/courses	 Only students in Business degree programs can apply to the Dyson School of Applied Economics and Management or the Nolan School of Hotel Administration as their Home College. Students accepted into other colleges may take business courses on a space-available basis. More details will be provided in the nomination information sheet to assist partners in determining best college fit for their students. Studio classes (architecture, art, design, and fashion) are only available through specific partner exchange agreements. Important: Exchange students are unable to take courses in Computer Science (CS) or Information Science (INFO) unless otherwise stated in the exchange agreement.

	Courses that are only open to degree-seeking majors (i.e. Dyson students only), including core or senior capstone courses, as well as first year writing seminars are not available to non-degree students. Exchange students may enroll in 5000-6000 level classes only if they have met the prerequisites. These are traditionally graduate level classes. Often instructor and college permission may be needed, and it is solely the student's responsibility to inquire with the professor and college if they can join the course. Graduate degree programs and professional colleges and schools (Law, Veterinary Medicine, SC Johnson College of Business, Cornell Tech, Weill Cornell Medical School) are not included in university-wide or undergraduate college-specific exchange agreements. Cornell in Washington is not available to incoming exchange students. Please review the college specific policies as the above information is general campus wide policy. Colleges may have further restrictions/exceptions to restrictions.
Registration / Course Enrollment	Accepted students will receive information about course enrollment once admitted to Cornell. Exchange students register for courses with matriculated (regular, full-time) Cornell students. Students may find that certain courses are closed or already full upon arrival. It is important to be flexible with course selection and schedules. While students are asked to provide initial course requests at the time of application, this does not constitute enrollment. Any deviation in timeline of course enrollment due to varying factors will be communicated to students.
	We cannot guarantee enrollment in any course. Enrollment permission is often subject to class size limitations, the consent of instructors, and demonstrated academic qualifications in the form of prerequisites.
Course Load	Exchange students on F-1 visas are required to maintain full-time status while studying in the United States. Students must enroll in a minimum of 12 credits per semester during the academic year and six credits during the summer. Most exchange students enroll in 14-16 per semester. Exceeding 16 credits is not recommended.

Course Roster	Course descriptions can be accessed through the class roster . The roster for the appropriate semester may not be available at the time you are completing your application, so consult the most recent roster for the semester you plan to study at Cornell. The class roster for the term you will be attending Cornell will be available before your pre-enrollment time slot. Syllabi, if available, will appear in the roster from the previous term (many may be missing). Students receive syllabi on the first day of class.
Advising	Exchange students continue to be supported by an advisor in the Office of Global Learning. Exchange students will also be assigned an advisor in their home college for academic matters. Depending on the college they may have a faculty advisor as well.
Grading Scale	The official university grading system is composed of letter grades with pluses and minuses. Passing grades range from A+ to D-; F is failing.
Transcript	Students must order their own official transcript after the completion of studies to be sent to their home institution.

POST-ACCEPTANCE INFORMATION
Housing	 On-campus housing is limited and not guaranteed for visiting students. Fall semester: Finding housing can be very challenging as single- semester leases are typically not available (students seek "sublets" using Off-Campus Living database and other sources) Spring semester: Housing may be available on-campus and is generally easy to find off-campus Full-year: Housing is available off-campus Note: Students should consider the risk of committing to housing before they have received admission notification from Cornell. For more information, visit the on-campus housing webpage and the off campus living webpage.
Meals	Cornell University offers many dining plan options for students who want to have a full or partial meal plan. Restaurants and groceries are available in the Collegetown neighborhood next to campus and by bus.
Orientation and Events	All incoming students are expected to attend new student orientation programs. More information on the orientation schedule will be shared during the on-boarding communications. Typically, orientation occurs the week before the start of classes.
Health Insurance & Immunizations	All students are enrolled in Cornell's Student Health Insurance . This is mandatory and cannot be waived by international students unless they are covered by an acceptable U.S. employer-based health insurance plan.

	All students must show proof of immunizations prior as part of the new student on-boarding process. See also information on COVID .
Costs	 Exchange students do not pay Cornell tuition, but are responsible for charges that will be billed through the Cornell Bursar system: Student Health Insurance Student Health Fee Student Activity Fee If a student has secured on campus housing and/or opts into a meal plan will see these charges on their Bursar bill. For a breakdown of expenses, see: Cost to Attend. This includes an estimate of additional costs payable by the student, including housing, meals, books and personal expenses. Spending varies greatly according to personal habits and choices.

STUDENT SERVICES & CAMPUS LIFE
Cultural and Social Enrichment	Exchange students are eligible to participate in a wide range of general campus activities. The Office of Global Learning offers special orientation for exchange and visiting students and additional programming throughout the year.
