 - Hybrid Courses: Hybrid courses that meet for at least 60% in-person may be counted as an in-person course. Hybrid courses that meet less than 60% in-person are considered online courses for visa compliance purposes.
 - Online Courses: J-1 students to have only one 3 credit fully online or hybrid course as part of their full-time enrollment requirement. Once a student meets the minimum enrollment (12 credits for undergraduates) they may enroll in additional hybrid or online courses. Graduate Students are limited to 9 credits/semester.NOTE: There is always the possibility that updated guidance will be issued that reverts to the pre-pandemic requirement of not allowing exchange students to have any fully online classes count towards their full-time enrollment requirement.

HOUSING & MEAL PLANS

HOUSING APPLICATION

On-Campus Housing is NOT guaranteed. Students apply for housing AFTER they have been accepted into the Exchange program. Students will use their Mason NetID to log into the housing application portal. Further instructions will be on students' MasonAbroad application portal. After submitting the housing application, students will receive a housing selection date and time.

It is very important that students select their housing on their assigned date and time. Students who do not select housing during their assigned time will go to the end of the list and may no longer be guaranteed housing.

Please see Housing Important Dates for accommodation start/end dates. Typically, students must move out of their residences the day after final exams.

Yearlong students staying on-campus over Winter Break must apply for additional housing AND pay additional housing fees

Undergraduate Students

While not guaranteed, Mason is able to accommodate most undergraduate exchange students on-campus as long as housing applications are submitted in a timely manner upon acceptance into the exchange program.

A handful of suites have kitchenettes (sink, microwave, small refrigerator). Graduate Students

Graduate student accommodations on campus are extremely limited and preference is given to those requiring disability accommodations. Most graduate students live off-campus.
